

MARGARET REYNOLDS.

MAY 26, 1842.

Laid upon the table.

Mr. DOAN, from the Committee on Invalid Pensions, made the following

REPORT:

The Committee on Invalid Pensions, to which had been referred the petition of Margaret Reynolds, report :

That they know of no precedent for granting a pension to the widow of a revolutionary soldier after she had married a second husband, and think that to establish such a precedent at this time might be attended with consequences the committee are anxious to avoid. They therefore report against the prayer of the petitioner.

May 19 1842
Laid upon the table

REPORT

in favor of the Committee on Finance, in the following the Committee on Finance, to which the report of the

That the House of Representatives, in granting a pension to the of the House of Representatives, after the said report, and that it is established such a precedent at this time might be and respondents the committee are anxious to avoid. They therefore and against the power of the petition.